

EXTREMELY HAPPY

Port of Prince L. Akums

Port Harcourt.

FOR some three weeks ago when we were passing through the historic period of changing the defunct Nigerian Currency notes, there were serious contemplations about what else our government would do to help the progressive citizens.

We are now extremely happy that the Government of the Republic of Biafra has wisely relieved us of this mood by releasing its long anticipated Currency Notes, and the Postage Stamps.

Business transactions which looked somehow abnormal during the period of changeover have undoubtedly resumed their normal Commercial aspects. Gowon-Alibaba's artificial blockade notwithstanding.

To say frankly, the attractive designs on our currency notes represent the true colour of our Republic, and what future prospects she has in stock for us. Just look at those four pretty girls at the backs of the 'Baby Notes'!

I salute our able Leaders for their high intelligence, and wish them continue the same way.

'Biafra, we dey!'
