

BIAFRAN SOLDIER WHAT A MAN HE IS!

Miss Victoria Nnanabu

THE Biafran soldier at war front. What a man he is! The average age of the combatant soldier in many fronts is 19 to 20 years. And what a man he is!

Slim fellow who under normal circumstances, would be considered by society as half man, half boy. But here and now, he is the beardless hope of free Biafra. He listens to the Rock and Roll of H.M.G.s and Sub-machine guns, instead of his usual High life music.

He just got out of Secondary School because of the war forced on his beloved country--Biafra. Since he joined the army to defend his country, he has forgotten all about his books, all he thinks about now is how to break down a rifle in thirty seconds and put it back together again in twenty-nine seconds.

He can describe the nomenclature of a fragmentation grenade, explain how a machine gun operates, and of course utilize either if the need arises. He can dig fox holes or trenches, and obey all orders without hesitation.

He has seen more suffering than he should have in his short life. He has stayed a whole day without food, laid down in a trench the whole day under rain and sun.

He has wept in private and he has not been ashamed of it because his friends have fallen in battle and he has come close to joining them. He has stood among hills of bodies, which he helped to construct all for the dear love of mother Biafra.

What a man he is!
